This work of fction from Naipaul (The Enigma of Arrival, 1993, etc.) is really a label-defying tapestry of elements, a fascinating, closely woven blend of history, character study, and autobiography. Naipaul's wonderfully vivid, lyrical descriptions of Trinidad, his homeland, reflect a mind whose every experience seems to have been carefully captured in amber.

A WAY IN THE WORLD is different, though it continues providing substantial insight into Trinidad society of our times and in history. Here, Naipaul has woven himself and his life (how accurately it is impossible to tell) into a rich tapestry of fiction mixed with history. Besides himself, we run into a leftist labor agitator based on a real person, a second-rate British writer, Sir Walter ...

Each person has the same categories and thus constructs the world in the same way. As members of the same species, we each have the same processing apparatus. Kant contended that reality (as far as we can know it) depends on the cognitive functioning of the human mind in total. Society sets the norms of truth and falsity and right and wrong. This is the essence of Kant's social primacy of ...

For me it was "That The Way Of The World", by Earth Wind & Fire. It is definitely my favorite album by Maurice & Co. I was only 4 1/2 when this album came out and it blew me away! They scored their biggest hit ever in "Shinning Star", while the title track will send shivers down a musical spine. "Reasons" will go down as their most beloved ballad. Phillip shines ever so brightly on this one ...
